ABSTRACTThis article analyses the 2015 music video for the song 'Dope' by South Korean 'K-pop' boy-band BTS, which had attracted over 200 million YouTube views by mid-2017. We contend that such K-pop music videos draw on established genre conventions to facilitate the global commercialization of their artists. These videos act as a platform to promote, legitimize, authenticate, and consolidate the artists' place within the K-pop music industry, while facilitating artist-audience connections. As a relatively new cultural phenomenon known as the Korean Wave, or Hallyu. The K-pop industry dates back much earlier, however, with today's K-pop representing a culmination of political, cultural, technological, and commercial factors aimed at making K-pop an integral part of South Korea's economy. By 2018, K-pop group BTS had achieved global success including top position on the Billboard charts and an invitation to address a General Assembly of the United Nations in New York. Careful design and marketing of music videos has made K-pop an important player in the global success of the Hallyu industry. Animated album trailer From this announcement, we learned that the title of the album would be The Most Beautiful Moment in Life Pt. 1. On April 23, Big Hit Entertainment released the first music video teaser for the lead single "I Need You." Three days later (April 26), the album's tracklist was revealed. The EP album was released officially on April 29, and the lead single "I Need You" was also released on that day, too. Entering the month of June 2015, BTS posted several concept photos for "Dope" on various Kpop music programs. Story of "DOPE" The writers of "Dope" were Pdogg, "Hitman" Bang, and Gwis Bang Mang. Besides those three, the members Rap Monster, Suga, and J-Hope also participated in writing "Dope." Aside from being a writer, Pdogg also produced the song. The song's genre is K-pop and EDM (electronic dance music). Literally, the word dope has the same meaning as the word cool. So, we can see that this track lyrically talks about "something cool." If we go deeper into the lyrics, we can see that the song talks about them. Through "Dope," they emphasize the real meaning of hard work. While the others are having fun in clubs, they are working hard and getting sweaty every day. Even though sometimes they feel sick with their workloads, they are quite optimistic and still hoping for further success. They also mention that they spent half of their days and lost their normal youth life only to practice choreographies in their days and lost their days and lost their days and lost their days and lost their normal youth life only to practice choreographies in their days and lost their days are days are days and lost their days are BTS to get more collaborations with many brands and other singers, and no one will be able to refuse the golden chance to collaborate with BTS. Also in this song, they criticize the media and the old generation who cursed BTS. But, at the same time, they had ignited a fire under them. They did not have the slightest thought about giving up. MV of "DOPE" The MV for "Dope" was released by Big Hit Entertainment on June 24, 2015. The director and the producer of the "Dope" MV was GDW. In the MV, they emphasize their intense and energetic choreography. The choreographer of "Dope" was an American choreographer named Keone Madrid. After the release of "Dope," Madrid collaborated again with BTS to make more choreography for other BTS songs. The "Dope" MV is the first BTS MV to reach 100 million views on YouTube. On October 19, 2021, the MV for "Dope" had more than 670 million views on YouTube. Even though this MV can be considered an old one, the amount of viewers is still increasing rapidly. Soon, this MV will have 680 million views on YouTube. "DOPE" Performances There were so many events that gave BTS the chance to perform "Dope." RIAJ gave a silver certification for "Dope" has been listened to more than 220 million times on Spotify. The Controversy of "Dope" was one of BTS' songs that were banned from TV stations and others K-pop programs. This banning was caused by many reasons, mostly because of the vulgar lyrics. At that time, many Koreans and international ARMY believed that the judgments toward the lyrics were too much and seemed too subjective. Some also said that the banning was so silly. They thought that there were no vulgar lyrics in "Dope" and also said that "Dope" shouldn't be banned from TV
